

Dress Code and You

By now, all of you should be familiar with Sac Attire. If not, please review it, since you will need to be in it for the conference. In addition to that, lawyers tend to dress more conservatively, so no “zoot suits” or brightly colored suits for the gentlemen or outfits a la The Devil Wears Prada for the ladies. Dress for the job you want, not the one you have.

On the flights and during the pre-trip, you can dress casual. Basically what you would wear to school or at Bob. That means comfy clothes, not pajamas. Chicago summers are notoriously humid and hot, so dress accordingly for the pre-trip activities. Remember that natural fibers breathe far better than synthetic (cotton, silk = natural; rayon, polyester = synthetic), so if you are debating between which shirts to pack, keep that in mind.

Fair Warning

Your advisors will send you back to your room to change if they see any of the following:

- Underwear that is peeking out of pants, shorts or skirts.
- Bra straps.
- Any words or images on clothing/bags that reference drugs and/or alcohol or are offensive.
- No short shorts or hot pants (yes, even you, gentlemen)
- High heels that make you walk like a baby giraffe taking her first steps.
- Please remember you are representing the best California has to offer. When in doubt, e-mail us a pic and we'll let you know if an outfit is okay.
- Make sure you click on this link, to let us know you read this.

Safety Tip

Chicago is a lot like an urban jungle, and in the jungle the strays are always the ones who end up as dinner. To prevent you innocent sambars from being picked off by tigers we insist you travel in packs. Minimum of 2 sambar together at all times, including donut runs, bathroom breaks to check your hair/antlers. Do NOT get eaten by a tiger or...<wait for it>...the-Bears!
