

ADC, Expectations and YOU

Very similar to when you start off the ML/C year with your delegation and you share you expectations, I give you the expectations for ADC:

1. Attendees are expected to attend all session, arrive promptly and be engaged at every session.
2. We ask that everyone be open to new ideas that are presented.
3. Network. Meet new people. ADC is a great opportunity for you to meet and share ideas with very intelligent/successful people from all across the state. Don't squander this opportunity.
4. Veteran advisors are asked to share their years (and in some cases, years and years and years and years) of experience with the newer advisors. The ML/C can be a confusing place and as a new advisor, it's good to know there is someone they can turn to ask questions and get advice.
5. While ADC is only for people who are 21 and over and there is alcohol present, please remember to represent your YMCA/school and California YMCA Youth & Government in a positive manner.
6. After ADC, complete the ADC survey that will be sent to you via e-mail and offer any constructive feedback.
7. Ask questions. Stupid questions are better than stupid mistakes.
8. Presenters will arrive to session early and ready to present.
