Letter from the 11th MUN Secretary-General

Fellow Ambassadors,

Welcome to the 11th Model United Nations Summit. I am excited to work with you. I hope that you learned new things, met new people, and most importantly, had fun at the Training Conference. Here at the Summit your daily agenda will include committee meetings, topic discussions, extensive debates, drafting resolutions, and fun-filled team activities.

My cabinet has selected several global issues to address this weekend that impact all countries. Our main focus is on water sanitation and conservation.

Other issues I have directed my team to work on include: the role of diamonds in fueling conflicts, prohibition on new types of weapons of mass destruction, and eradicating poverty in Africa. These issues affect the daily lives of people everywhere.

While these are the issues my office will concentrate on, they are only a few of the topics that will be addressed this weekend. In your small group sessions, you will have the opportunity to raise your hand, add a comment and actively participate. Whether you are arguing a case, involved in debate, writing a story, or responding to a natural disaster, it is important to remember that we are all exercising our voice and giving attention to the issues that will shape our future.

I look forward to working with you and seeing what agreements we will make to address the issues presented in our program areas. I urge you to learn as much as you can during our time together and to work to develop your networking and debate skills. I hope you take every opportunity to meet and talk to people from different program areas and delegations other than your own.

Above all, I hope you have a great time in Irvine with your delegation, your program area, and the new friends you will meet here.

Respectfully Yours,

Riley Owen
11th Secretary-General

Letter from the UN Secretary-General

THE SECRETARY-GENERAL
MESSAGE TO THE CALIFORNIA YMCA
MODEL UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE
Irvine, 3 May - 6 May 2012

The word “model” has a number of meanings. In the context of the Model United Nations, it is commonly understood as “a small copy.” But I prefer another of its meanings: “a praiseworthy example to be copied.”

People often criticize young people for their idealism, or even try to talk them out of it. But I think idealism is one of your strengths. Without it, we would have a far more difficult time imagining and building a better world.

Idealism is also a big part of what animates the United Nations. When the Organization was established in 1945, the world was reeling from a destructive period of warfare that had touched the lives of just about everyone on the planet. Those who drafted the UN Charter were determined to prevent any recurrence of such atrocities and upheaval. They wanted to see a new international consciousness emerge from the ashes – one grounded in human rights and peaceful coexistence. They too were idealists, but at the same time understood the need, bred of recent experience, to erect safeguards against human cruelty.

The past six decades have not been easy. There have been major advances in the human condition. But war and poverty still plague our world. And we can all sense the perils of the present moment, as a global economic crisis and the gathering force of climate change combine to threaten our future well-being.

As you participate in this Model United Nations, you will get a taste for the complexity of international relations. This exercise is no empty role play. Half the world’s population is under 25. You are their representatives. Many of you will move on to positions of real leadership. All of you, by your choices as consumers, by your decisions as voters, will assume real power to shape and change our world.

I encourage you to keep in mind both meanings of the word “model.” I urge you to pursue the solutions that depend on imagination and courage, consensus and compromise. Hopefully your time at this Model United Nations will help you become the models the world needs to fulfill the ideals of this indispensable organization.

BAN Ki-moon, United Nations Secretary-General

Forum on Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs)

Non Governmental Organizations (NGOs) are non-profit organizations that are not affiliated with a national government, and they generally engage in working for the aid, development and welfare of a community at the local, national or international level. The MUN NGO program simulates the interaction between NGO groups and various UN agencies. Ambassadors role-play as members of a UN agency or work with their peers to create an NGO to solve a problem.

Award Categories & Descriptions

Premier Delegation

Premier status acknowledges the best Model United Nations delegations. Recognition as 'premier' means that a delegation has excelled in the areas of participation, behavior, leadership and administration.

Outstanding Country

The Outstanding Country Award is given to the one country whose participation in every organ stands out as being superior in every way.

World Citizen

The World Citizen Award recognizes the outstanding ambassador whose participation has been in keeping with the truest spirit of the United Nations and peaceful negotiation. The Ambassador should display respect to his/her fellow Ambassadors and should uphold the integrity of the United Nations and Model United Nations.

Advisor of the Year

Delegation Advisors are the backbone of MUN and their job description runs the gamut from mentor, to role model, to administrator. This award is presented to the Advisor whose efforts have created the most significant impact on the experience of his/her ambassadors.

Outstanding Service to Youth

This award is presented to an adult who has demonstrated a longstanding dedication to the service of youth. This award is not a longevity award, but seeks to recognize those individuals whose body of youth service work, both in Model United Nations as well as in other areas, deserves special recognition.

Program Innovation & Development

This award is occasionally presented to those who, within a particular program area, have made a substantial contribution to its innovation or development. Such contribution should have had a lasting and influential effect. Therefore, the individual's contributions must have begun at least 2 years prior to the award being presented.

Who decides?

Award recipients are selected by the Awards Committee on Saturday evening at the Summit. The committee considers both the submitted nomination forms and their personal experiences with potential award recipients when making decisions about award recipients.

Premier delegation decisions are made by compiling information from the program year and applying them along with committee member observations to the Premier Delegation Rubric. A copy of the rubric is available in the MUN office.

Members of the Awards Committee are selected by the Program Director.

Code of Conduct

California YMCA Youth & Government Model United Nations

"The purpose of California YMCA Youth & Government is to develop within our youth a dedication to the values of democracy and an awareness of the need for their participation and leadership in the democratic process. Participants in the Model United Nations program are expected to develop an awareness of the global political situation and respect for the cultural and ethnic differences of all"

BASIC PHILOSOPHY OF RESPONSIBLE CONDUCT

Essential to California YMCA Youth & Government (Y&G) is the concern of each participant for the rights of every individual. Being responsible for one's own behavior at all times is a necessary part of self-government. It is critical that all participants, advisors, and staff act responsibly to ensure that their own conduct and attitude is beneficial, not only to themselves and to their fellow participants, but also to ensure the continuation of Y&G's programs.

The Code of Conduct shall be observed by both youth and adults. There will be no double standard. By choosing to participate in Y&G programs, each individual agrees that they have read, understand, and will follow the Code of Conduct while attending any part of the program. Each participant is accountable for preserving the reputation and high standard of his/her YMCA delegation and Y&G.

All participants share equally the responsibility for their actions when violations of the Code are witnessed. Those who decide to be present when a violation occurs shall, by their own choice, be considered a participant in the violation. In this program, there are no "innocent bystanders."

1. GENERAL RULES

In order to ensure the safety of all participants, Y&G reserves the right to conduct searches of baggage, rooms and persons to include the use of breathalyzers in accordance with its policies. In addition, local law enforcement agencies may be contacted and the participant/ advisor/staff member turned over to them as appropriate.

Infractions of General Rules A-E shall result in expulsion from Y&G functions and conferences.

- a. Possession and/or consumption of alcoholic beverages or illegal drugs are strictly prohibited.
- b. Weapons of any kind and items that could cause injury or damage to participants and/or property are strictly forbidden.
- c. Any violation of state, federal or local law will be treated as such and the proper authorities may be notified.
- d. Intimate sexual behavior is inappropriate and not allowed.
- e. Possession and/or the use of any tobacco products is not permitted.

Participants may not drive any vehicle while at a conference. Advisors seeking to drive during a conference shall obtain clearance through Y&G. In all cases, liability is assumed by the sponsoring local YMCA or school.

Immediately upon hearing the announcement or alarm Ambassadors, Advisors, Secretariat and Staff must move to the evacuation area. Ambassadors should not stop at their rooms during an evacuation.

Evacuation Meeting Area

The MUN Summit evacuation area is in the park across the street from the hotel. Once outside of the hotel, proceed to the park across the street (to the right as you exit the front door of the hotel) and look for YMCA signs and your group. Upon arriving at the evacuation area the Lead Advisor or designee should call roll. Deans should be notified immediately if any Ambassador, Advisor, Secretariat or Staff member is missing. Vehicles should be driven to the evacuation areas slowly and safely, being mindful of the number of persons in the area. Vehicles should be loaded using rosters, and when full, should move off hotel property to a safe location. YMCAs with no transportation on site will be provided with phone access to make arrangements for transportation, or in the case of imminent emergency evacuation, transportation will be provided.

Non-Emergency Evacuation

If evacuation from the hotel is necessary but not an imminent emergency, Ambassadors, Advisors and Staff may be allowed some time to return to their hotel room to pack and remove their personal belongings. All persons should report to the evacuation area for announcements and directions BEFORE being allowed to return to their hotel rooms
